

Role profile for Aisha Wahab, CA State Senate District 10

Part I: Individual/Organization Profile

- Legislator Background
 - Name: Aisha Wahab
 - District: District 10
 - Party Affiliation: Democrat
 - Age: 37 or 38
 - Gender: Woman
 - Race: White
 - Ethnicity: Afghan American
 - Martial Status: Married to her Husband, Abdul-Raheem Momoh who works in Audit and Investigations Lead at NOVA Merchant Bank Ltd. in Nigeri
 - Education: From the University of California (USC) earning DSW Doctorate of Social Work, MBA from the East Bay, California State University, to getting a BA in Political Science at San Jose State University

- Career Background
 - Non Political

→ Wahab's path for her career had been influence more due to her own personal experiences within her house insecurity, with the following of her foreclosure of family home during the time of the great recession. Within that experience it gave her fuel to advocacy which led to her career inside public services. After she had earned her MBA she had went straight into the IT field. As for she also went into leadership which she held several and also board positions in the Bay Area nonprofits before she went into politics. A non profit based which was Afghan refugees. Wahab was more of a community organizer who had helped with issues for housing affordability, education, and economic inequality. She was a chair inside of the alameda county human relations commission and was a Alameda county public health commissioner. She had helped within organizing the 2017 Womens March in San jose as she spoke for the women. She also was selected into participating the white house roundtable of Afghan-American Leaders.

- Political

→Aisha is a American politician and is also a current state Senator inside of District 10, this has been a position she has held onto since 2022. She is a former youth who had made history on becoming the first ever Afghan-American to be elected to the public office in the United States and later as the first Muslim and Afghan-American to join in the California Senate. With her political career having heavily influence because of her own experiences personally within the Housing insecurity and economic Instability.

- Here are the list of committees Aisha Wahab are involved in:

- Senate Appropriations Committee
- Senate Budget and Fiscal Review Committee/Budget Subcommittee 5
- Senate Judiciary Committee
- Senate Local Government Committee
- Senate Energy, Utilities and Communications Committee
- Senate Insurance Committee
- Select Committee on Bay Area Public Transit

- Number of Years in Current Role:

Aisha had been in her role for Nearly 3 years

- Percentage of Votes in last election:

She had received a total of 53.7 of the vote (114,997 individual votes) on November 8th, 2022.

- Issues the senator is best known for:

Aisha and her work is best know for inside of issue based for Housing affordability, Caste Discrimination, and Consumer and utility accountability.

- Prominent donors to Aisha:

The biggest donor for Aisha Campaigns is Mckinley Pillows & Associates LLC. List of other Donors below:

- Association of California school Administrators PAC
- Deane and Company
- California nurses Association PAC (Cna-PAC)
- California Building Industry association PAC

Ideology:

Economic: In 2025, she had been helping out with giving the people more help with the Rent Caps, which her main focus was to maintain a good and affordable pricing for low income tenants.

Social: While having her own mental crisis within her family she had wanted to authorize a bill to require the California Department of Education that behavioral health professionals, not the Law enforcement, to have first attention to a student's mental health crisis during school at anytime.

Environment: She had given a good expression for a transition for a green economy and also for the implementing policies to combat climate change.

Part II

Economics: Aisha's Prominent industries mainly include her technology, nonprofits and public sectors. She maintains to have a strong focus when it comes to the community organizations as well as her to stay focus on advocacy.

Unemployment: Her main goal was to maintain focus upon the family to improve economic conditions, rather than focusing on the unemployment rate, which then was reported by the state and the federal agents.

Income Levels: In 2017 being in Santa Clara County she had an annual salary of $103,804, inside of her Senate race she had made a fundraiser which had made an amount of 1.2 Million in Campaign Funds, while she served in Hayward City Council her pay was accumulated to $24,015, in 2023 as she was a public official she consisted on her salary which which boosted to $122,694.

Poverty Rate: She mainly focused on her work for housing affordability, which in 2025 her legislative package had delivered 1.4 Million for Housing.

Demographics:

Population: 1,036,376

- Breakdown of By Race

- White: 186,651, 18.01%

- Black: 35,165, 3.39%

- Asian: 543,425, 52.44%

- Native Hawaiian and Other Pacific Islander: 9,234, 0.89%

- Breakdown by ethnicity:

- Hispanic/Latino: 820,753, 79.19%

- Mexican: 215,623, 20.81%

- Age:

- 0-4 5.8%

- 5-17 10.4

- 18-24 22.0%

- 25-64 54.4%

- 65 n Up 54.1%

- Income:

- As for 2024 Median Households Income 134,228$

- Urban/Rural:

- There is no current classification since she did not run for 2024

Politics:

- Partisan Voter Registration:

- In Nov 3rd 2022 the amount of voters were 342,701

- 2020 analytics by party

- Democrats-none
- Republicans-none
- Reason She rather withdrawn from the election or was disqualified

- 2016:

- She didnt run for anything

- 2012:

- She didnt run for anything

- 3 specific issues that are important to your constituents

- Her top three issues she mainly focused on was House accountability, Consumer Protection, and holding investor-owned utilities accountable.

Constituents general positions:

- Everything was based of a democratic base, as she mainly placed her progressive wing into the democratic party.

